Dear Parents and Families of YIS Students,

It is hard to believe, but the end of the 2008-2009 School year is rapidly approaching. With this time comes the need for families to plan for summer trips, travel and visits back to their home country. This note home will explain Yanbu International School's End of Year Policies for students who must leave school before the end of the school year, June 17th.

YIS is an International School with an American based educational program and curriculum. Therefore the following policies are in place to ensure the creditability and transferability of the YIS educational program:

1. For a student to receive grades or marks on a trimester, quarter, or semester report card, they MUST be in attendance for 75% of the school days during that grading period.
2. The high school course credit attendance policy is consistently enforced through out the entire school year: If a student misses more than 10 days of a course(s), he/she will not receive high school credit for that particular course(s).
3. For YIS to make a recommendation for grade promotion for the ensuing school year, the student must be in attendance (minimally) until June 6th. If a student leaves before that date, he/she must be tested upon their return in August for grade placement for the 2009-2010 school year.

I hope that helps you and your family make travels decisions as deemed appropriate as the school year marches to a close. But YIS still has 8 solid weeks of school left with much to learn, much to teach and many educational experiences to be had! We at YIS value your child's educational program and are striving to provide him/her with the best program possible.

If I can be of any service, please contact me.

Sincerely,

David A Dorn
